Rowe Breaks Olympic 200-Meter Record

THE A'S AND C'S SHOULD RECEIVE SPECIAL ATTENTION, SAYS SNEODEN

SCHOOL OF FUTURE WILL TAKE MORE COGNIZANCE OF MENTAL DIFFERENCES, SAVANT THINKS.

The fifteen per cent at either end of the normal curve in school work came in for consideration at the hands of Dr. C. A. Toloe, director of the university, who is lecturing this week at the Brigham Young university before faculty members and students of the institution. Dr. Toloe has decided that both groups should receive special and careful consideration, in addition to the fact that the new school of the future will be organized to care for both far better than our schools are now caring for them.

"Let us not be too hasty in our educational measurements have gone for enough for us to predict the condition and possible vocation of the pupils in later years. During the next fifteen years, so, we shall discover that the fifteen per cent of A's will not do manual labor, but will be in the more supervising occupations. Our experience has taught us that such people extend their usefulness up to the time when they are 45 years of age. If we can provide their health will permit. It ought to be the duty of the school that they shall be given the foundation of good health which will carry the A's through to an extended life. The other group, by the very nature of their work, are more likely to care for their own health."

Dr. Sneoden advocated manual labor for the boy and girl between the ages of 9 and 20. He stated that sports will not take the place of regular manual work. He said that American women between the ages of 35 and 60 are paying in poor health for the lack of manual labor during this important period.

"The Misses Davies sang a duet for the opening number, and a student played a piano solo.

DAN CUPID STARS! KNOCKS DOWN TEN! MISSES ONLY A FEW!

TWO FORMER STUDENT BODY PRESIDENTS ARE AMONG VICTIMS.

True to the popular narrative, "I Got My Wife at the B. Y. U.", five prominent men students of the university have taken or will take unto themselves the daughters of the ladies of the school, during the month of June.

Merrill J. Bunnell, former student body president, will marry all last Wednesday, the unlucky 13th, when he was married to Connie Osmond, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Alf. Alf. Osmond.

He was followed in rapid succession by Joseph Bentley and Lynn (Mabel) Miller, the former being one of the five stars, the former marrying Miss Kathryn Borch, last year's secretary and treasurer of the student body, and the latter taking the daughter of prominent daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. W. Lester Mangum of this city. The Bentley-Davis marriage took place in the Salt Lake Temple on Thursday June 14, and the Miller-Mangum, in the same place on Saturday, June 16.

Dan Hart, former student body president and Don Lloyd debater, dramatist, athlete, and secretary of the Y. U. chapter of the D. Y. C. will make a double-headed on Wednesday, June 27, when they will be married in the Salt Lake Temple to Davis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis, of this city, and Helen Carroll, daughter of Mrs. Elsie C. Carroll of the English faculty of the university.

C. A. TOLOE GETS STADIUM CONTRACT

C. A. Toloe, of Provo, secured the contract for building the seats at the Y. U. stadium, and will begin the installation of these seats for $4,000 a seat, finished within sixty days, the university to furnish the materials.

Gord has been on the ground for some time. The structural steel has not yet arrived, but Elmer Jacobs, architect, has the plans and will be here within a few days at the outside. Work, however, will begin when the steel arrives or not.

NORMA WINS AGAIN

Norma Christensen, of Richfield, a junior at the Brigham Young University, has done it again.

This time she has won the diamond pike. Given by the Woodward lumber company for a performance on the typewriter of more than 100 words per minute, she has won the award for 5,000 seats finished within sixty minutes. Miss Christensen made 161 net words and is entitled to the $100, the highest award given by any typewriter.

Two years ago Norma got the 90 word a minute award, and three years ago she won the state high school championship. Miss Christensen pays tribute to Fred A. Rex and Johnson, her teacher, and has been of great assistance to her, she declares.

OWEN ROWE WILL GO TO BOSTON OLYMPIC MEET, SAYS COACH HART

KIEFER B. SAULS TAKES TRIP TO THE SOUTH

Kiefer B. Sauls, purchasing agent of Brigham Young university, and secretary to President F. G. Hart, in company with his mother and mother, left Monday morning for Georgia and other parts of Eastern United States, and will return when Mr. Sauls new Hudson car is ready.

While away the family expects to visit the new home of Mr. and Mrs. South Carolina. This will be their first visit since they left that region many years ago.

TAKES THREE FIRSTS IN OLYMPIC TRY-OUTS AND WINS RIGHT TO GO TO THE FINALS.

Owen Rowe, Cougar track and field star, returned from Denver with three firsts in the Olympic try-outs and the Olympic try-outs in that city last Saturday. Owen broke the Olympic record in the 100 yards and gained the same title in the Hayseed, Altera, two Colorado sprinters.

Rowe took first in the broad jump, the high jump, and the triple jump, the last two being the triple jump, the high-step-and-sprint, an event he never before attempted.

Rowe is on his way for the Cougars to Boston to participate in the Olympic finals which are to be held before the final team is selected, probably at Princeton, Holland, for the Olympic meet.

Rowe entered the national inter-collegiate meet in Chicago in the low-hurdles, but was not overjoyed, although he made his way to the finals.

International Pianist And Composer Comes To College Hall

Louis Victor Star, internationally known pianist and composer, will appear in a recital at eight o'clock this evening at College Hall. Mr. Star will play his own compositions, and will be assisted by a quartet from Salt Lake City who will render several of Mr. Star's numbers.

Mr. Star has composed many works, including songs, choruses, instrumental and orchestral numbers.

Music patrons will be delighted with this evening's program. His appearance has been made possible through the efforts of the summer school faculty.

JUNE 29 SET AS DATE OF MOONLIGHT HIKE

FLASH-LIGHTS, CANTEENS AND HIKING TOGS ARE IN ORDER.

Next week the annual all-night moonlight hike to Maple Flat takes place. It happens on Friday, June 29, when the moon is just right for romancing. Some of the students and friends may join in the hike. Some preparation, perhaps, is necessary, as the trail is rough and rugged, trail part of the distance, and there is but little water along the route. Therefore let those who intend making the all-nighter prepare themselves with flash lights, canteras, climbing togs, extra canteens and food. The moonlight hike will be well also to practice going without sleep for a week previous to the outing, so that the night's trek can be undertaken with the greatest of ease.

As usual, the hikers will assemble in the Women's Gymnasium at 30 p. m. Friday, June 29, when the moon will be spent in full preparation to light up the for the hike. From the gymnasium the trail will lead past Cougar Reservoir, up the hill to the Devil's Grotto, and Little Italy to the foot of the path to the "Y". Here a self-appointed committee to gather the stragglers, and to carry extra supplies, or some device to resemble

Then, probably at 1:00 a. m., the great climb will begin, which will end on the Point of Mother Luna's Nose in the middle of the night. And the day comes into the picture. Possibly the sun may rise on that particular morning, which phenomenon will be witnessed from a vantage point designed to add dramatic color to the rising.

Introducing Tarbo and Cleo

THE most interesting couple on the campus during the summer quarter, as well as during the other quarters, if one is to judge by the numbers who pay them visiting calls, is Tarbo and Cleo. They are the most popular couple on the campus, though their birthplace is the Kaihai Forest, having come here when they were but little tots. They began their residence here in the green-house where they were fed nice warm milk during the early days. Later they were removed to the home they now occupy, which is not very pretentious, but the quiet couple seem to enjoy it when children of all ages have their fun and do not interfere. They are not afraid to receive a gentle visit from gentle people, but they object to the visitation of Gleno S. Peter, George, and Chris, with all their mights as they do the visits of boys with air rifles.

Tarbo, of course, is the male and the boss; Cleo is the gentle matron of the home whose business it is to keep the floors swept and the beds made up. You will find them at home on East Eighth North at any hour of the night or day.

Make a friendly call.

BROCKBANK, BAILIFF, FIRMAGE SWELL FUND

Many substantial gifts have been received by the student committee of the Y. U. stadium of the Community Fund of the B. Y. U. stadium during the past week.

Among these was one for $250.00

made by L. E. Brockbank, county attorney of Utah county, a $100.00 gift from the Y. U. stadium, a $50.00 gift from the city court, a former student body president and debater; and the J. C. Penney Company's store of Provo. Besides these many gifts have been received, and the number of $50.00 tickets have been sold.

Divided politics, united religion, an amalgamated society, and rational belief in the yesterdays, todays and tomorrows.

THE LITTLE HOME WINS AGAIN

The little home which has been made famous by many presidents of the United States seems destined to win again.

Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee for president of the United States, was born in a two-room house in a small town in Iowa; and Alfred E. Smith, who will undoubtedly be the Democratic nominee for president, also comes from a little home but one in old New York.

One or the other of these noted men is almost sure to be elected President, unless Will Rogers is prepared upon to accept the nomination. In that case, the wise humorist is likely to occupy the White House during the next four years, for despite the fact that Mr. Hoover was nominated at one of a great majority and that Mr. Smith is likely to be nominated as quickly, there are millions of people in the United States, were given an opportunity to vote directly for a president who would vote for neither of these men.

Of course, the fact that the two nominees come from small homes does not mean a great deal. It is not what a man sprang from that counts so much, as how far he has grown and in what direction. Mr. Hoover, who began life in a two-room house now has at least two houses—palatial buildings both—with many rooms in each house. How he got them and what effect their getting has had upon the man are important questions now to ask. On the other hand, Governor Al Smith who was once a poor urchin on the streets of New York has now spent many moons in the capitol of the most populous and richest state in the Union. How far that experience has removed him from his childhood is also an important question.

At any rate, no matter what happens, all of us who were born in small homes feel just a little more that the old America of the democratic ideals has not entirely passed away from the earth.

IKE WALTON SLEEPS AGAIN

Ike Walton, who has been much disturbed during the week by activities on the "Y" Campus and by the fish yarns which have drifted down from the nearby streams of whoppers which—got away, may sleep again.

Secretary E. H. Holt, Professor William F. Hanson, Professor Alfred Osmond, and many other fishermen have been to the streams and have returned loaded with—stories and a few fish. School may prove once more Ike may turn over in his "narrow hall" and rest for another season

WATCH THE STADIUM GROW

Students of the summer session, by taking an interesting and delightful walk along the ditch bank beginning from half way up the steps at the point of University Hill, may behold the rapid growth of the "Y" stadium. The signing of the contract for the structure by C. A. Tolson last Saturday means that cement will begin to flow at once, and will keep on flowing until the first unit of the structure is completed.

It will be interesting to observe the growth of the structure which will be called into being on the site nature planned for it as the magician calls from the transparent air his magic forms.

Students of the summer school are invited to view this growth according to Elmer Jacob, engineer of the project, who believes that seeing is supporting

MY ENEMY

I wonder what is in his troubled mind. What strong emotions stir his angered heart? I wonder if my searching there would find that of me, but a counterpart? Now frankly, I confess, I wish to write true.

Because in spite of all the wrong I do, Or evil and ignoble thoughts I hold I'd like him dearly if I only knew His better self, like mine, had not grown cold— Too cold to glow with friendliness ane.

When we'd meet each one could understand The other's weakness and redeeming strength. Our frankness, then, would match love's great demand. Since I know me, and I'd see him at length. No longer then could hate between us brew.

Provo Beach To Be Mecca Of Pilgrims

Friday, late afternoon and all evening, the summer school students will be making the pilgrimage to Provo Beach, and special trivets at the popular resort. The committee in charge assert that the time since the route will take the hiker to some of the most delightful spots in this neck of the woods. It will be a walk of about one and one-half miles of cross-country trail.

At Provo, on the banks of the Provo River and Utah Lake, at the junction of the two streams, students will participate in swimming, bathing, and dancing until mid-night or there abouts, when they will be brought back to the campus under the stars. The return trip will be by auto bus. All those joining in the group should provide themselves with towels, and be prepared to purchase an evening's serving of eats at the various refreshment stands.

The committee in charge of the outing consists of the following six members: George Tamm, Zeila Moore, Rita Jones, and Kathie von Stoffmann. This committee has arranged for transportation from the campus to the beach, and for a dinner at the beach. As usual, registration fees will take place in the lower hall of the education building.

Strawberry short cake and many other delicacies are on the bill of fare of the "Y" cafeteria, which is serving the students at the beach all day at noon. The cafeteria is run largely for the training it offers students, therefore, the patron may expect well balanced meals at a minimum charge

Nature, B. Y. U., Alumni and Friends are Cooperating in Building Magnificent Stadium

Bingham Young University is to have a stadium, and, according to the plans, it will be a fine one. Joseph Nelson, architect, who has the work in charge, it is to be an unusually pretentious one when it is ultimately finished. At present it is the ultimate goal of the university, as President F. S. Harris declared, and the university is merely cooperating.

Certain it is that the stadium is well located, and in a most attractive surroundings, according to all who view the site. The hillside furnishes the foundation for the seats, which are 35 rows high, and provides a screen for the occupants of any of the seats to behold that is thrilling to say the least.

The stadium will contain 5,000 concrete seats, to provide a well-drained, well-grassed football field and a well-built race track with a 220-yard straightaway. The cost will be $25,000.00 with which to do this work is now under way in Provo and in the remainder of the valley, as well as in Salt Lake City.

The plan upon which the committee is working is shown as follows: gifts of any denomination will be accepted, and in addition fifty dollar checks allowing the holder to be present at any function held by the university in the stadium for a period of six years, will be accepted. A year's subscription and a five dollar ticket to the dedication game are being sold. Every dollar obtained, however, will be expended in the building, carrying the structure towards completion as far as possible.

In showing the importance of the stadium, according to the architect, the following statement is given: "The stadium, though it is a great out of the necessity for a more quite field upon which to hold inter-collegiate games and athletic contests, the present need, though it is great, is in the way of the expansion of the university; therefore, according to the present needs, the stadium will be used to expand money upon the present site when eventually it would have to be moved." The new field, on the contrary, the present one, will be used to expand the university, and will be entirely permanent. The present site, too, according to the architect, will be sufficient for parking space for all to come.

The super-structure as shown in the cut, will probably not be added to the stadium for some years.

Dinosaur Comes To The B. Y. U.

When Nephi Williams, seminar principal of Castlefield, came out of the eastern deserts to school, he brought with him a pet which he had for some days. The pet was a parroted thigh bone of a dinosaur.

The animal which he brought with it is a creature which he claims was a mighty one is indicated by the fact that the small portion of the thigh bone which he brought weighed in the neighborhood of 160 pounds.

The bone will be included in the B. Y. U. collection of interesting things, and will be shown to the public during the time in Room D, after which it will be carried to that repository. At present it is resting on the campus east of the College Hall.

DRAMATIC ART WORK HAS BIG ENROLLMENT

Grace Nixon Stewart of the dramatic art department, has seventy students enrolled in her three classes of dramatic art. The work, according to them, is interesting and very much enjoyed. Many of the students are teachers who have found the necessity of this particular kind of work in their teaching.

The department will furnish a number of interesting programs during the summer, to which the student body and general public will be invited. There will be a number of amusements of special interest will be an evening of story telling by the class in interpretation. The special and private students are also preparing a program.

Mrs. Stewart says she is enjoying her work and finds the classes very interesting.

GERMAN SAVANT PRAISES MAESER

DR. HAENLE, GERMAN SCHOLAR AND WRITER SPEAKS ON RELIGION.

"The spirit of Kord G. Maeser makes it a real home-coming for me," were the opening words of Dr. Max Haenle, the University of Erlangen, in an interview with the Y News. Perhaps it was the same spirit that helped make Dr. Haenle's lecture so interesting and broad-minded, as he was looking forward to both students and faculty.

In showing the importance of religion in the economic life, Dr. Haenle made mention of the fact that the lecture was in the beginning of "Man's desire and efforts to overcome forces of nature and the partisans of a religious nature have been of economic importance."

To all races and denominations the importance of religion has always been pronounced; all religions and reformers have always influenced the economics of a country in one way or another. "We must not fall into the material standpoint, and we should be careful that these material pleasures do not lead us to an end in themselves," Dr. Haenle declared.

A machine is neither good nor bad in itself, but how it is used. "The machine is a means to an end, not an end in itself," continued the speaker. "Because this is exactly what Mormonism means, as well as we know our 'Creator.' " Dr. Haenle paid special tribute to Mormon adherents when he said that "Mormonism has produced the most typical and most moral man in the world of wisdom."

He mentioned the fact that our great "masonry system" has produced a great many people—men—an economic institution at another church knows of.

Also, he claimed the nation in order to be a classical example of the correlation between religion and commerce.

"I like this religion," (Mormonism), concluded Dr. Haenle, "but I like such a great effect upon the moral, physical and economic life of the people. I like the way it influences people, that it has enabled me really to know and understand life from a human point of view."

The committee is busy in an attempt to check up on the fifty teams which are working on the drive. These reports are coming in slowly, but in the mean time the work is progressing. Both ends of Utah and Salt Lake City have been and are being visited by committees which have made an effort to raise sufficient funds with which not only to construct the tracks and field but the seats on the west side of the field as well.

MEITH MAESER VISITS HIS ALMA MATER AGAIN

TO BE MEMBER OF THE FACULTY OF THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY.

Meith Maeser, former Cougar athlete, scholar, and editor, returned to Provo from Boston, Massachusetts, yesterday, to spend the summer vacation.

For the past two years Mr. Maeser has been attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., studying in the field of architectural engineering. He was graduated from the institution recently and is now engaged in his studies, doing his duties as a regular instructor in concrete and testing material laboratories.

At the B. Y. U. three years ago Meith was editor of the student newspaper, "The Y News," and the year before he was editor of "The Y Wee."

He will also be remembered as a stellar track and field performer, being captain of the track team during his senior year.

Mr. Maeser will spend part of his vacation in Provo and in Provo Canyon, and intends later to take up permanent residence in Salt Lake City, where he will start his school at September.
